GERMAN DELEGATES ATTEMPT TO DRAW ALLIES INTO ORAL DISCUSSION AND ARE ISSUING PROPAGANDA FROM VERSAILLES—ALLIES PLAN ATTACK ON PETROGRAD, SAYS REPORT.

TERMS ALMOST READY FOR AUSTRIA

PARIS, MAY 12.—(Associated Press)—The peace treaty with Austria is nearing completion, and an official summary of it is being prepared, as was done in the case of the German treaty.

Although it is not so stated in the treaty, the new Austrian frontier is the one designated by the secret treaty of London, giving Italy all the strategic heights and defensive passages.

The peace conference leaders have renewed their efforts to reach an agreement on the Italian questions, in view of the imminence of the arrival of the Austrian peace delegation in France. Consultations were begun today between Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy and Colonel House of the American delegation.

Meanwhile, attempts are being made by the German delegates at Versailles to draw the representatives of the Allied and Associated Governments into oral discussions of phases of the peace treaty presented to the Germans last Wednesday.

French opinion, as reflected in the newspapers, regards one of the notes, sent to Premier Clemenceau as president of the peace conference by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German mission, as distinctly of a propagandist order.

This is the note advancing a counter project as to international labor legislation, which the French argue is intended to convince the Socialists and the laboring classes of the Allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

The German Cabinet Council, under the chairmanship of President Ebert, took up yesterday the question of counter proposals to the peace terms, to be made by the German delegation at Versailles, and a committee from the German National Assembly met during the day and discussed the terms of peace.

The National Assembly will meet in Berlin today, and it is expected that Chancellor Scheidemann will give some idea of the German reply to the Allies.

The Austrian peace delegation, which Vienna reports will leave there at 5:20 p. m. today, is expected to reach St. Germain on Wednesday, and workmen are preparing the palace of Francis I for their occupancy.

Reports from Paris indicate that the Hungarian peace delegation is expected to arrive soon. It will be quartered also at St. Germain, but will not be permitted to communicate with the Austrians.

Dispatches from Rome declare that the Italian people are discontented and irritated by the delay of the Council of Four in reaching a decision on the question of Fiume.

Allied forces are reported in a dispatch from Helsinki, Finland, to be preparing for an attack on Petrograd. It is said that 50,000 men will be engaged in the operations and that French cruisers are lying before Helsinki, presumably to take part in the attack.

CAMPAIGN FOR HOLDING HUNS IS UNDER WAY

Move Seen to Obtain Strong Support for Appeal on Changing Peace Terms

(By Associated Press)

Berne, May 12.—Press comment news concerning the peace treaty as sent here by the German semi-official news agency suggest a campaign has been started to incite German opinion against acceptance of the treaty, or perhaps to give Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau manufactured popular support in demands he may make for alleviation of the peace terms.

"Closing of stock exchanges and the government appeal for a week of mourning" is taken here to indicate there is a well co-ordinated movement to influence the German people.

SOLDIER'S SERVICE DRAWS CROWD SUNDAY NIGHT

The "Soldier's Service" drew an immense audience Sunday night to the First Presbyterian Church and was one of the most interesting among the evening services, which Rev. J. L. McWilliams had been so successful in making distinctive.

Both auditorium and Sunday School room were filled and the large assembly, listened with absorption to the messages from returned soldiers.

These boys back from overseas are so "fed up" on war and the recollection of its horrors are so fresh that their idea of happiness is to be allowed to rest with no reminder of those ghastly days. Hence the response of these soldiers was doubly appreciated.

Following the opening devotionals, conducted by Rev. McWilliams, special music by the choir and the singing of national songs. Hon. C. A. Reid introduced the soldiers with effective introductory remarks in which he linked together the far reaching sacrifice of the mother who so nobly bore the cruel cost of the war and the timeliness of holding this service on the day adopted and installed among the customs of our country as "Mothers' Day."

Lt. LeRoy Martin, of the British Foreign Legion was the first speaker. He was in England in 1915 and caught the war spirit to the extent that he enlisted in the First King Edward Horse.

Lt. Martin spoke chiefly of the experience of his company in Italy saying that with all the difficulties of mountain climbs and trenches and "digouts" blasted out of solid rock, he would "rather spend a year in Italy than two weeks in France". Lt. Martin refused to mention the number of decorations with which he had been honored or of the circumstances of his own wounds in action.

The audience was most responsive to the young soldiers' short talk and was especially interested in a brief mention of his earlier service on Russia's front in transport service, when the supply ship was burned and for three months the boys lived on hard tack, beans and coffee, suffering severely from hunger and cold, the thermometer dropping down to 48 degrees below zero occasionally.

Sergeant Ed. Williams, of the 145th Infantry, 37th Division, one of the few Fayette County boys to wear home the French Cross, gave an interesting account of his experiences in Belgium throwing the spot light upon the manner of the German's attack and the enemy resistance and counter attack, and the haste that was necessary. "There was no time to sleep and no rest camps in Belgium" said the young soldier laughingly, but added that there was always plenty of rain and hard tack.

One of the happiest experiences the boys had in Belgium was the finding of a Belgium woman who had a big crock of butter, she had buried and kept from the Germans, but gladly dug up for the Americans.

Sergeant William showed a number of souvenirs.

Most prepossessing in his appearance and every inch a soldier even if only ranking a "first class private" 146th Ambulance Corps, 37th Division, Robert Jefferson made a splendid snappy talk on "France" and the three fronts upon which he was actively engaged.

Only those at the front realize how busy these Ambulance boys were kept—at one front going 8 days and nights with no sleep or anything to eat except as food was snatched from "rolling kitchen" passing along the road; driving through inky blackness, only broken by exploding shells which dug holes all around them and with no guiding light finding the wounded and dying and conveying them safely to the hospitals.

Young Jefferson and Orlan (Tubby) Hays were assigned as Convoy of the Ambulance Corps when the American Army crossed the line from France into Belgium and had the honor of being the first American to carry the stars and stripes over the border. Great applause broke forth when Private Jefferson showed the flag which they had carried over.

The audience would gladly have listened longer and regretted when he brought his short talk to an end in a stirring recital of a fine descriptive poem written by one of the Infantry boys.

Regardless of the Church and Sunday night frequent applause was given the boys.

Miss Jessie Sunkle favored the audience with a beautiful and most opportune solo, "The Americans Come" and a violin and cornet duet, played by Miss Mazie Kessler and Mr. E. W. Harvey and organ solos by Mrs. B. F. Davis were greatly enjoyed numbers.

Every one joined heartily in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," which closed the service.

FRANCE'S FETE DAY WILL BE OUT OF ORDINARY

Paris, April 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—France's national fete day, the fourteenth of July, will witness scenes of patriotic fervor probably unparalleled in the history of the republic, for that is the date provisionally agreed upon as most appropriate for the grand march of the victorious French army through the streets of the capital.

The program is already beginning to assume definite shape. The route will be from the Porte Maillot, at the main entrance to the Bois de Boulogne, through the Arc de Triomphe, along the Avenue des Champs Elysees, the Place de la Concorde and the Rue de Rivoli to the Place de la Republique; a distance of some eight miles.

The general outlines of the scheme of decorations have been arranged by a body called the French Federation of Mobilized Artists of the War 1914-1918, and a festival committee of forty, appointed by M. Lafferre, minister of Public Instruction, has approved the scheme submitted.

At the Porte Maillot, between huge pylons, tribunes will be erected where the city fathers will welcome the heroes of Verdun and the Marne. Along the Avenue de la Grande Armee, decorative hiakues will commemorate battles, the names of which are household words throughout the world.

FINDLAY—Mrs. D. D. Dukes will be the leader of a war savings stamp drive which will be conducted in June. Miss Dorothy M. Burrell, director of the women's division of the Ohio State organization, appointed her during a visit here.

Not Unexpected

The Germans are indulging in a great amount of loud talk, some of the leaders insisting that Germany will never accept the treaty submitted to them by the allies, that it means financial and industrial slavery; that Germany will surrender herself to the Bolshevik forces and fight until the bitter end rather than consent to such a humiliating peace.

Well, no one expected the Germans to be satisfied with the terms of the treaty. Having lost the war and having been guilty of the most barbarous and deliberate and malicious destruction in the history of the world, on land and sea, it was expected that they would object to paying the penalty.

We must remember, always, that the German viewpoint has not changed, even though the nation has been overwhelmingly defeated in war. We must not expect the German leaders to look the situation squarely and honestly in the face. They don't see things like the rest of the world, else they would not have had practically the whole of the world arrayed in war against them.

They will sign the treaty all right. The Teutonic roar which greeted the treaty upon its presentation will gradually subside before the time limit has expired and Germany will sign up, not because of any desire to do right but because it is the only thing possible.

One would think, however, from the remarks of some of the more timid folks that everyone was expecting the Germans to sign up instantly.

The German leaders recognize force and only force. They will do nothing unless compelled to, and they will do anything when force permits no alternative.

It's up to the allies to present a just treaty. That they have done, and it's up to Germany to sign and Germany will sign.

Promised Relief

The people of Washington enjoyed a revival of their hope, a few days ago, that, after all, perhaps some day, the maddening cutout on automobiles racing through the streets and the automobile repair shops in the city streets would cease to make life almost a horror and the transaction of business next to impossible.

The cause of that revival of hope was Mayor Dahl's announcement that he was determined to see to it that the "anti" ordinances covering those particular acts in violation of the rights of our citizens, were enforced.

Some months ago we had a similar announcement and our hopes gained strength. That was in the time of year when the automobile using and repair work was not so flourishing as it is in the spring.

However, conditions were much better for quite a while—all must acknowledge that fact. For several weeks past, though, people have been losing hope and beginning to fear that the officials had about abandoned us to our fate—the "anti" automobile nuisance ordinances seemed to have become a dead letter. The hundreds of automobiles were dashing through our streets with cutouts roaring and several sections of the business streets looked and sounded like a repair garage turned wrong side out.

However, we have the promise of better times and if the promise is made good all the past will be forgiven and forgotten.

May's Cold Spell

It is rare indeed that the month of May does not bring us a cold rainy spell of weather and each year we permit ourselves to become discouraged and at times a little pessimistic as to prospects.

The May cold spell generally comes from the tenth to the twentieth of the month. There are few exceptions to that general rule. Year after year the grand old month of May—the month of flowers and sunshine, has startled us with a cold spell and each year we are as surprised as if it had never occurred before.

This year we have had our cold snap and the chances are that this is the last one. When May takes her fling about the tenth it is seldom that we have another one later in the month.

We can get pleasure out of this cold spell in the knowledge that if this month of May is not an unusual one we are through with the cold spells for this season and we may go ahead, confidently, with the preparation of our summer wardrobes, dust off our straw hats or buy new ones, transfer the garden plants from the kitchen boxes and hot beds into the garden.

It is strange how these seasons come along each year with their "unseasonal" weather, nearly always on a par with preceding years, and yet each one brings us alarm and is the basis for an assertion that it's "very unusual weather."

It isn't. This May is just about like every other May for many years and a sample of what May will be for many years to come.

POETRY FOR TODAY

TOWARD THE LIGHT

My son, the world looks dark to you,
the wrong outlives the right;
Turn round and raise your troubled gaze and look toward the light!
Men always see in darkness when they fear to turn their eyes
Toward the sunshine of their dreams, the light of lovelier skies.

My son, the job you wanted fails, the land has fooled you—eh?
Turn round and click your teeth and smile, and look toward the day!
The pessimist sees only gloom in every thing—but you
Are not afraid to trust and wait to strive and think and do!

My son, the world seems upside down and wrong side out and all;
Turn round toward the lofty hope and hark the bugle call!
Men must be weak, indeed, who fail,
when in this land so swings
The morning faith, the burning joy, the lifting hope that sings!

PARADE OF 166TH WAS HELD LATE SATURDAY EVE.

Tremendous Ovation is Given Rainbows as They Swing Down the Streets.

(By Associated Press)
Columbus, O., May 12.—The greatest crowd that has ever assembled in Columbus greeted the 166th infantry of the Rainbow Division upon its return to the city on Saturday afternoon.

Never before in the history of Columbus has there been a gathering of people which in anyway approached in magnitude the one which the returning soldiers found in the city to greet them. It was a crowd that filled practically every inch of space on both sides of the streets over which the parade moved.

The downtown sections of the city were packed solidly with humanity. Thousands upon thousands were congregated in the sections of Capitol square, that were passed by the marchers.

Long Wait For Parade.
It was a good-natured, and exceedingly patient crowd, easy to handle. It began to gather long before the noon hour and grew steadily until the parade got well under way along toward 6 o'clock.

During the long hours of waiting, few went away. They wanted to see and to cheer the gallant veterans who had returned from the war zone and they were determined to stand and wait until they had had opportunity to do so, notwithstanding the inconvenience the delay in the arrival of the troops occasioned.

The visitors began to pour into the city early in the day and they came without cessation until about the middle of the forenoon. They came on special trains, on regular trains and by auto.

Especially large was the representation from Union, Delaware, Madison, Fayette, Licking, Fairfield, Madison and other nearby counties. Union and Delaware counties probably sent more people to the capital than any other outside counties.

Bands Entertain.
The ominous overcast sky which threatened rain, apparently kept no one away from the celebration.

The large concourse of people occupying the reviewing stands on street between Third and High streets were entertained during the several hours of waiting by Marion and London bands and by an aggregation of 500 Ohio State university students who gave college yells and songs and executed stunts.

Many Reunions.
Never has Columbus witnessed so many and such touching reunions as those which occurred on the state-house grounds immediately following the parade. Mothers and fathers, wives, sisters and sweethearts, who had secured just a glimpse of their loved ones from the sidelines during the parade, waited until companies stuck up their standards in the state-house grounds and then made a dash for that spot, picking out their boys. Helmets were knocked away and great husky soldiers broke down in their long awaited embrace. Relatives were speechless for a few minutes and just patted their loved ones on their brawny backs.

RACE RIOT
Charleston, S. C., May 12.—A count today by the police showed two negroes were killed and 17 injured in a riot last night with civilians and sailors. Seven blue jackets also were reported as wounded.

The President urged that in every community a citizens' committee be organized to co-operate in carrying out a program for extending the boy scout program to a "larger proportion of American boyhood."

News of Interest to Women

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the attendance at the masquerade given by the members of the Alambra Club, of Milledgeville, Friday evening, was very large.

A guessing contest, before the masks were removed, caused much fun and ended by Miss Fern Elchthorn winning the prize, a pound box of candy.

Miscellaneous games and dancing made the evening a very enjoyable one.

The music furnished by Earl and Andy Gidding and Willard Chamberlain with piano, saxophone, and trap drums, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

On Saturday evening a dozen of the Leesburg Avenue friends of Mrs. Julia Benjamin gave her an enjoyable surprise in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in merry conversation and ended with an old-fashioned taffy pulling. Mrs. Benjamin was the recipient of many useful presents.

Those present were Mesdames John Deere, Walter McLean, Isaac Sollars, Jesse Yeoman, Emily Bush, Wert Bush, Chas. Coffey, T. W. Holmes, John Foster, Samantha Ladd, T. K. Perdue, Mieses Thyra Turner and Miriam Perdue.

The chaperone is reappearing in London, after more than four years of absence because of the war. American women, the society leaders say, are responsible, because they want to see London, and independent and self-reliant as they are, they do not want to see it without the assurance that they will be well chaperoned.

The chaperone, once a well-established institution in England, lost her calling when women went in for war work. Many a young girl who had never ventured from home without the guiding hand of a chaperone took to driving an automobile, while others were installed in the "Waacs," the "Ruffs" or some one of the many other women's organizations which had to do with the prosecution of the war. Those vigorous young women had no use for chaperones.

The American women who want chaperones also are war-workers. Red Cross, Young Women's Christian Association aids and others who are here. They, too, are self-reliant and independent, but when they doff their uniforms and go out to see London or spend a part of their very little leisure time in the gaieties of the city, they feel they ought to subscribe to the conventions.

The London Daily Mail is agitating the question, "Should Wives be Paid?" following it up with the desire to know just what the wife is worth in the home from an economic standpoint.

The subject opens an interesting discussion and the point made by feminist reformers as well as a fair-minded masculine element is clearly put forth in a play now staged.

It is called "The Parse Strings," and may be propaganda for the movement. That fact, however, does not render it any the less important in such a discussion. Most serious plays are founded upon inspiration illustrative of some moral point.

In "The Parse Strings" the central figures are a husband and wife. The husband has charge of the family pocketbook, and although he sees that his own wants and whims are satisfied he is not so thoughtful about his wife. He has plenty for the two of them, but personally she is "poor."

George Bernard Shaw, the English novelist and playwright, answers the Mail's question in this fashion:

"It is obvious that if a woman has to keep a house and bring up a family and yet receive no money to expend for herself, she is a slave, pure and simple. All the necessary expenses of motherhood and parentage generally should be defrayed by the community, but not under the heading of salary or wages."

The Knoxville Journal and Tribune claims that Mr. Shaw thus takes the problem clear away from the home. His intention is to relieve the imposed-upon wife, but he gets away somewhat from the question, "Should Wives be Paid?" The Mail evidently wants to know if the husband should pay the wife, not if the community should pay the wives of the community.

The wife is entitled to pay. She is entitled to one half of the husband's net profits. She is entitled to equal division with her husband. When the two are made man and wife they begin upon a marital partnership, the understanding being that from then on the good things of life and the bad things will be shared on a fifty-fifty basis. In these times of poverty the good wife must wear her last year's hats and the good husband his last year's trousers. When the going gets better if profits justify a new pair of trousers for him she is entitled to the new hat.

No wage rule could be made to apply generally. The wife should be paid; not however, as a servant or a manager of domestic affairs, but as a partner in the concern, in a partnership which entitles her to half of the profits.

The True Blue Class of Grace Methodist Church was indebted to their teacher, Miss Elsie Craig, for delightful entertainment Saturday afternoon at their regular meeting.

After a merry round of games, the girls were seated at the table for delicious refreshments. A beautiful little May pole, with colored ribbons formed a central decoration.

The committee in charge included Misses Mary Elizabeth Holmes, Irene Shoults, and Ruth Haines.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bush formerly of this section, now residing on a farm recently purchased near London, handsomely entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Bush's birthday.

Forty were assembled and the occasion was one of memorable pleasure.

Attending from Washington and Fayette County were Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Todhunter and two children, Mrs. Glen Ladd and son, Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Todhunter and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Todhunter, Miss Emma Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Griffin Wilson and daughter, Mrs. Ione Fortier and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Toin McCoy and three children, and from Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Todhunter and three children.

Those who braved the rain to attend the Elmwood Ladies Aid Society held at the home of Mrs. Emily Bush on Leesburg Avenue felt amply repaid for the delightful time which they enjoyed.

Despite her frequent denials, Mrs. Vernon Castle, widow of the famous dancer-aviator who died fifteen months ago in an airplane accident, was married a few days ago to Robert E. Treman of Ithaca, N. Y. The ceremony was performed at the Little Church Around the Corner, the Rev. Dr. Houghton, rector of the church, officiating. Mrs. Castle, as everyone knows, is a famous dancer and motion picture actress, and her husband, Mr. Treman, is the son of Robert H. Treman, deputy governor of the Second federal reserve bank. ### MARKED SERVICES AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH

At the morning service of Grace M. E. Church, Rev. Dr. T. W. Locke, who was pastor of this church for five years, but is now on his fifth year as the very successful superintendent of the Lancaster District, Ohio Conference, delivered a forceful sermon taking as his text, "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

Dr. Locke developed this thought in regard to the Centenary Movement, emphasizing our need of a clear vision, in order to present it to others.

At the close of the services an informal reception was held for both Dr. and Mrs. Locke.

The auditorium was crowded with friends and former parishioners of Dr. Locke, who enjoyed the opportunity of welcoming both minister and wife in Grace church again.

In the evening a beautifully impressive service was observed, the occasion being the Thirtieth Anniversary of the Epworth League a branch of the Young People's Society of Grace Church.

The platform was simply and attractively decorated with numerous small flags across the side, and baskets of fragrant spring flowers, tulips and lilies of the valley at either end.

Preceding the processional of the Leaguers, the pastor, Rev. A. P. Cherrington made the address of welcome. Miss Dora Mae Stewart, the League President, presided throughout the evening and was very graceful in introducing each number with appropriate words of explanation.

The First Vice President, Miss Mina French gave a short resume of the League's work the past few years, in a very pleasing manner. "Some Facts About Life Service" were presented by Miss Stewart, and Recognition of the League's Investment and Its Return was made by Mr. Cherrington. Hymns interspersed the Responsive readings and speeches.

Dorothy Stewart and Frances Griffith were especially cunning in their vocal duet, "When the Boys Come Home," the former soprano and the latter alto. Miss Mina French played the piano accompaniment.

"The Second Enlistment" a pageant portraying the needs of the church for special Christian workers, and the consequent necessity of a vigorous recruiting campaign in order to carry out the church program, thereby "The Second Enlistment."

Miss Ruth Tanquary as America, and Miss Dorothy Briggs as Christianity were splendid in the leading roles, and were admirably aided by Lawrence Beachdell as a Soldier, Herman Frey a Minister, Miss Chloe Anderson, Deaconess Miss Helen Glascock, Missionary, Secretary Barber, Y. ### ESTIMATES NOT YET FORWARDED

So far it was announced Monday by President of the County Commissioners, Louis Perrill, no additional move toward rebuilding the Columbus pike this year has been made by the State Highway commission, which has not yet submitted revised estimates for the work.

It is understood that unless definite action is taken within a few days, some additional steps will be taken at this end of the line to show the State Highway Department that interest here has not lessened in obtaining the improvement as speedily as possible.

FAYETTE SOLDIER VISITS PALACES OF FRENCH KINGS

Ray Mershon Writes Interesting Letter From France Describing Visit To Seat of Famous Monarchs.

Washington friends will read with much interest the following excerpts from a letter received by Mr. Clark Mershon from his son, Ray C. Mershon, who is now stationed with the A. E. F. at La Mans, France.

The letter was written on the 22nd of April. Pvt. Mershon had hoped he would not have to write again from La Mans but says it begins to look like he might be there for some time—says he is like a horse on sale day, doesn't know where he is going but hopes to soon be billed for home; is feeling fine physically. Speaking of a vacation trip Pvt. Mershon says: On the eve of the 6th we were called out of our barracks, 50 Privates, 3 Sergeants, 3 Corporals were picked out to go to a little town 42 kilometers from here to do some work for the 122nd Engineers and we were as mad as wet hens, so the next morning we rolled our packs and got into three autotricks with seven days rations and arrived at LeLude on the Loire River at about 1 o'clock.

We all thought we were to go in the pine timber and cut logs and it sure was a surprise when we stopped in this pretty little town and unloaded our Junk. We were staying in the dance hall of the town of about four or five thousand and as clean as could be.

There had not been any soldiers there before us and the French were awfully nice and a lot of them could speak good English. But the best part of it was the Chateau Le Lude. I am sending some views of the place in this letter.

It is where King Louis lived in fact several of the Louises lived there and old as the Earth itself almost. It is surely the most beautiful thing I ever saw in all my life. Just imagine me in a King's palace seeing the same things he saw and walked where he walked and even sitting in the same chair. Paintings on the walls of some of the nobility that are at least 20x30 ft. square all sorts of carving in wood and stone, gold, silver, marble and all such things. It sure reminds me of some of the Fairy Tales. I have heard, all the mystery and all that, but it is almost as a fairy tale but still the fact.

It is kept by an Englishman and he told us that there were rooms in it that no one knew about.

And we were in a room that was not discovered till 1863. So you can see there is some mystery about it. There is a solid mass of halls and doors and there never was a night as dark and black as that basement, or under ground place. There are dungeons and all kinds of scary looking rooms and the silence send a chill all over you and the light we carried didn't seem to make any light at all down there.

But where there was light up in the Chateau and out in the grounds I don't know what could be more beautiful.

Just wait till I get back to Gods country I will sure talk an arm off you and I must not forget to tell you I saw Napoleon Bonaparte's Chateau and had a good look over it also.

Oh, yes, I want you to know I never got a Xmas box; am lucky to get a letter.

I was over to see Leavett Marshall about three weeks ago and sure was glad to see him and all the rest of the boys, they are just across the railroad track from here about a mile and a half, but there are so many soldiers here it is impossible to see any one if you haven't their address. But I just stumbled onto him one Sunday after noon at a ball game over to the Spur Camp where he stays. He ran up and jumped on my back and yelled like an Indian. I turned around to see who it was that had gone crazy and there he was smiling from ear to ear and we shook hands until we got the cramps in our elbows.

Well I surely will quit this time and if this letter sounds crazy, just think where I am, so give every one my best and hope to be home soon so I can tell them so myself. So Good Bye and take care of yourself with lots of love.

LINCOLN'S IDEA OF JUSTICE TO SOLDIERS

The following incident, related by Major J. A. Bering at a recent meeting of the Loyal Legion, is of pertinent interest in line with present discussion concerning army regulations and of special local interest because of the connection of the late Capt. George B. Gardner, a frequent visitor at the home of his brother, the late Hon. Mills Gardner, in this city.

"The Sixtieth regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, commanded by Col. William H. Trimble, was recruited in the fall of 1861 at Hillsboro, O. Their first service was in West Virginia. One morning in the summer of 1862, John Gallagher of Captain Lynch's company and one of his comrades were conversing near their tent, when the brigade officer of the day, a mounted officer in full regalia, rode around the company tents, giving sharp orders for the soldiers to clean up their camp and removed all litter from the streets. He was very much in earnest and emphatic in his orders.

"John Gallagher was a raw recruit and had not heard such strenuous orders given before, and supposed it was all a joke. He said to the officer, 'Get down off your horse and look at your saddle.' The officer was not in a good humor and this remark made him furious. He dismounted hastily and attacked Gallagher, and then rode back to brigade headquarters and reported to the commanding general that a soldier of the Sixtieth Ohio had insulted him while on duty as brigade officer of the day. Gallagher was put under arrest and ordered to be tried by court-martial. At the trial, which soon followed, he was found guilty and sentenced to three years' hard labor in the Joliet (Ill.) penitentiary. He was soon in the pen at Joliet serving his time. Capt. George B. Gardner, commander of Co. C, an attorney from Hillsboro, Ohio, and father of Miss Grace Gardner of Cincinnati, was temporarily acting as adjutant of the regiment and thinking it a severe and unduly harsh sentence for a trivial offense, sent a petition to President Lincoln, giving a plain statement of the case, and pleaded for the pardon of Private John Gallagher on the ground that he was a patriotic and obedient soldier.

"President Lincoln sent the petition to the warden of the penitentiary at Joliet with the following indorsement: 'Send this soldier, John Gallagher, back to his company. I am not recruiting men to fill the penitentiaries, but enlisting men to fight, and that is what he was doing.' In a short time he was back to his company. The first thing he said when he arrived was: 'I am a Democrat and have always voted the Democratic ticket, but hereafter, ever time Mr. Lincoln runs for President I am going to vote for him.'

FARM BUREAU TO HELP INTEREST BOYS ON FARM

Corn Growing Contests Are Encouraged By Prizes To Be Awarded.

Much Interest in Coming Wheat Grading Demonstration at Greenfield.

The Executive Committee of the Fayette County Farm Bureau, at a meeting Saturday afternoon, voted to award prizes to be competed for at the County Fair, by boys in a corn growing contest the Bureau believing the work is a valuable one and desiring to encourage it.

Each township Executive Committee was made responsible for arranging for a pointment of from two to five delegates to represent his township at the State Wheat Grading Demonstration which will be held at Greenfield Tuesday, June 3. These delegates will probably be selected at a township meeting held for that purpose. The Greenfield meeting is a very important one. If the commercial value of wheat this fall happens to be below the guaranteed price, the grading of wheat sold by farmers will probably be very severe. It is therefore held important that they know themselves about these grades and corresponding prices. Five or ten cents a bushel on Fayette County's wheat crop will run into money, it is pointed out.

Feeling the importance of the proposed amendment to the State Constitution whereby property will be classified for taxation, the committee decided to call a county meeting of the Farm Bureau members as soon as the rush of farm work is over.

Senator Parrett and others will discuss the proposed amendment. Arrangements will be made for asking questions of the speakers either orally or through a question box as desired.

Farmers are urged to not overlook the exchange which the Bureau has established.

HUNS STUNNED BY THE TERMS OF THE ALLIES

Germans Just Getting Awake to Realization of Their Great Defeat.

Nations Crimes Now Apparent to All the People.

(By Associated Press) Coblenz, Germany, May 12.—The Germans in the American occupied area are mentally stunned by what they consider the severity of the peace terms, the summary of which has appeared in German newspapers.

The Germans of Coblenz appear to feel the loss of Silesia more than anything else and exhibit more concern over the eastern frontier than the occupation of the Rhineland for the next five to fifteen years. Reports on the attitude of civilians in the various parts of the American area regarding the peace terms, have been received at the headquarters of the third army since Thursday when an army intelligence summary said, "Never until today has the enormity of the nation's crimes seemed apparent to the Rhine-land population. Prepared though they may have been for the punishment meted out, the Germans nevertheless plainly portrayed their dismay upon the publication of the peace terms."

FILIPINOS WILL MAN VESSELS OF THE U. S. NAVY

Trained Natives Will Take Out New Boats for First Time

(By Associated Press) San Francisco, May 12.—For the first time in the history of the United States navy, an American destroyer and a submarine, when completed, will make their maiden trip out of here with petty officers and crew composed entirely of Filipinos.

Ninety-seven Filipinos are taking the course at the Mare Island Navy yard near here, which will fit them for duty aboard the new ships. Others will come until the total complement of 114 men for the destroyer and thirty-nine for the submarine have been assembled.

The destroyer Jose Rizal, and the submarine F-30 now building at the Union Iron Works here are the gifts of the Philippines to the United States navy. When they are placed in commission the Philippines will enjoy the distinction, not only that they have paid for the ships, but that they also have supplied the crews to man them.

Heretofore Filipinos have been allowed to enlist in the United States navy, with few exceptions in the Asiatic Station, only as mess attendants. When the Philippines announced its gifts, an order was issued by the Navy Department to the commanding officer of every ship afloat to nominate from his crew such Filipinos as he considered desirable to form the complements for the new vessels.

The boys also were allowed to make application for the assignment.

GREATEST WHEAT CROP ON RECORD IS IN PROSPECT

Decline of Four Points in Fayette Wheat Since April First Is Noted.

Ohio's Wheat Crop Some Five Million Bushels Greater Than Ever.

"Prospects still continue bright for a bumper wheat crop in Ohio this year," states J. L. Cochran, in charge of the Federal and State crop reporting work at Columbus. "With less than one per cent of loss from winter killing and an average condition of 105 per cent of normal, on May 1st, a crop of 54,222,000 bushels is forecasted if favorable weather continues. The ten year average on May 1 is 82 per cent. The crop in prospect this year is nearly five million bushels larger than any previously reported. The crop in 1889 was about 49,000,000 bushels. Some reports have been received of damage by frost, but it is the general opinion of our official reporters that the loss will be comparatively little.

The rye crop has made a splendid start. The condition on May 1 is reported at 102 per cent of normal, compared to 92 per cent on May 1 a year ago, and a ten-year average of 87 per cent.

The total acreage of tame hay is estimated at 2,778,000 acres, or five per cent less than the acreage last year. While there was practically no winter killing of clover throughout the state, the hot, dry weather last summer injured the young plants and many of the new meadows went into the winter in poor shape.

Pastures are reported at 90 per cent of normal for the state and the condition of all classes of live stock is above the average for this season of the year.

Plowing for spring sowing and planting is further advanced than usual. The percentage reported completed on May 1 was 79 per cent, compared to a ten-year average of 69 per cent.

Fayette's wheat condition May 1st was 107 per cent, a decline of four per cent since April 1st. Plowing was 95 per cent completed on May 1st.

JACK BURNS MEETS HACKENSMITH HERE MONDAY, MAY 19TH

Chic Baylor, promoter for the wrestling bouts which are being staged in this city, announces that he has succeeded in matching Young Hackensmith with Jack Burns, of Omaha, Neb., for a finish match for two out of three falls, the bout to be held here Monday night, May 19th.

Burns has the reputation of being the best wrestler in the game at 142 pounds. He has recently tried to get a match with Cyclone Bill of Cleveland, but Cyclone did not seem willing to meet him. Burns has been wrestling in the East, recently, where he has won eleven straight matches.

There is no question as to the ability of Hackensmith. He is the only wrestler of his weight who has ever defeated Matsuda, the world's lightweight champion, the bout taking place here last Wednesday night.

Both wrestlers are widely known and the bout will be of more than passing interest.

The semi-final will be a finish match between Hamilton and Pappas for two out of three falls.

Tickets will go on sale for the match Wednesday of next week, and when the "Western Tornado" and "Russian Lion" meet on the mat here, it is expected the largest crowd yet witnessing a wrestling match here will be on hands.

MOTHERS DAY HONORED IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

The observance of Mothers' Day with "Mother crowned our National Queen of May," was the special feature of the Sunday services in the local churches in accord with the Governor's proclamation.

The services were beautiful in tribute and deeply effective, with ministers' tongues loosened in eloquence under the inspiration of the subject, special music and pulpits wreathed in radiant blossoms, the very essence of Spring.

Regardless of the fact that the morning skies were threatening the churches were all full and but few people in the large audiences but wore the significant flower, honoring the day—the flower of bright color for the living and of snowy white for those of the great silent majority.
Church of Christ.

Appropriate services were held both morning and evening at the Church of Christ in keeping with the spirit of Mothers' Day.

The Priscilla Bible class had charge of the arrangements in the morning when a half-hour program was rendered. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and flags. Automobiles brought many of the mothers to the service who could not otherwise have been present. A bouquet of half a dozen white carnations was given Mrs. Mary Rankin, oldest mother present, who has nearly reached her eightieth birthday.

The pastor, G. E. Groves, preached an appropriate sermon from the text: "Honor thy father and mother."

In the evening a program was arranged consisting of the "songs that mother used to sing." Besides many of the old hymns being sung by the choir and audience the following were sung as special numbers: "The Home of the Soul," a duet by Mesdames Orland Toops and D. C. Michael; "Shall We Meet Beyond the River," and "Saved by Grace," as quartettes composed of Mrs. Orland Toops, Miss Mabel Jones, Messrs. Chas. Snider and Clifford Irvin; "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," as a duet by Messrs. Ruth Culbertson and Jane Williams; and "Lead Kindly Light," as a solo by Miss Florence Michael.

A unique part of the service was of the "lining out" a hymn by the pastor which was sung by the congregation as was the custom fifty years ago. At the close of the singing in this old fashioned way the pastor asked how many had worshiped in churches where this practice was in vogue and in response over a score held up their hands.

The large audiences that were present morning and evening were deeply impressed with the services held in honor of "Mother."

POLICE INTERRUPT SIX MEN ARE CITED

The police, late Saturday night, made a raid on a place in Millwood where gambling was reported to be in progress, and as a result four men were cited to appear before the Mayor, and two others, who made their escape, also are wanted.

It was announced at the Mayor's office, Monday, that affidavits would be prepared and hearings held at seven o'clock Monday night.

PREVENT SENDING OF TRAVEL CLAIMS

Although the transportation rate for discharged soldiers has been increased by Congress from 3 1/2 to 5 cents per mile, the government has not yet formulated plans for refunding the difference to men who received the lower rate.

Claims sent in now will only clog the machinery of the War Department. The Red Cross Home Service has been asked where possible to prevent the sending of claims for refunding out-of-pocket pay until further notice.

MAY SOON BEGIN OILING STREETS

Plans are on foot for oiling the macadam portion of Market street and probably one or two other macadam streets of the city, in order to end some of the dust.

Within a few days it is understood something definite will be decided upon, and action taken as soon thereafter as possible, providing oiling is arranged for.

Overland Model 90 Touring Car

Showing the World What 600,000 Owners Know

A few days ago a STOCK Model 90 Overland touring car again proved its stamina by smashing completely the world's non-stop HIGH GEAR record. The official records prove it to be one of the greatest reliability records ever made by any car. The distance covered was 129 miles better than the best previous showing.

This test was made in Oklahoma. It was not staged on boulevards. The daily average was over 600 miles through the severest weather, and over every kind of road from country highways to crowded city streets. The distance was equal to a trip from New York to Los Angeles, and back to Oklahoma City.

The car was sealed in HIGH GEAR and the shift lever was removed. Not once was there the slightest mechanical trouble, the least hesitation, or the faintest break in the smooth, even action of the Overland motor.

At the end of seven days and seven nights of gruelling test the Overland Model 90 finished in as perfect running condition as when it started, and this standard car is an EXACT DUPLICATE of the Model 90 we will be glad to show you.

This test does not make the car better, it merely proves in a dramatic way what owners already know about this wonderful car.
